The performance of modern luggage is borne by its attractive surface

Plastics: Flexibility in its most attractive form

Plastics have become an extremely flexible material for highly differing applications due to their easy malleability characteristics. Today plastic products have achieved their permanent place in nearly all areas of life.

Shift-Work: We add texture to life

With its comprehensive performance spectrum, Standex gives plastics their special succinctness: from texturing highly differing types of materials such as PP, PE, PVC, TPO, PC right up to ABS panels for deep-drawn applications such as used in the automotive industry or for production of suitcases.

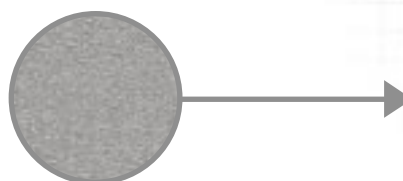

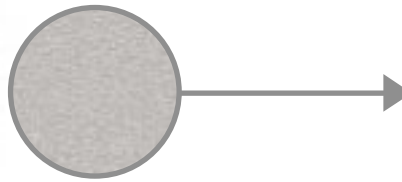

Out of comprehensive know-how we develop fascinating surface textures. The Standex Engraving Group has developed more than 100,000 designs to date world-wide.

Perfect-Form: Shapes for functionality

Our designers continuously create new, fascinating surfaces according to the desires and specifications of our customers. Produced with molds with every imaginable texture and size – the result is a product with incomparable, unique character.

Best-Seller: See – Feel – Buy

The success of plastic products is highly dependent on their visual and haptical appeal. Imitation of leather, wood and stone or ingenious fantasy creations made by Standex make your products true „attention getters“ in the eye of the customer.
